Unical Aero H2561-9-145UA Latch Assembly is installed on various fuselage doors to hold the door in place. The Latch Assembly consists of 5 primary components for functionalities and assembly. The Button Bracket is a casting unit that serves as a rigidity base for installation and components mounting. The Connector joins the Button Bracket with the rest of the assemblies. The actuation of open-closed function is with the Button assist by the Bolt and Springs. The sets-Screw at the end of the Bolt is the primary transfer of force component to secure the Door.
